View of the southern part of Dämme bridge in Gothenburg.

Dämme bridge is 20 meters long pedestrian and bicycle bridge over Gullbergssån in Gothenburg. It connects Ågäingen with Elfrida Andrée street (former Balder place respectively Dämme road) ^[1] in the district of Gärdä. The name comes from the dam, which was built at the eastern end of Färrischusån where Mölnedalsån passes to the hot Gullbergssån.

Gullbergssåns pedestrian route along the eastern side, which begins here, named "Blacksmith Karlsson's Walkway", after the blacksmith masters Ernst Karlsson (1878-1957) who started Gärdä forging workshop at the turn of the century.
